9. QUESTION: (INCLUDE SCENARIO IF NEEDED FOR CLARITY):

I have a case in which a customer is currently receiving transitional compensation payments from the US Army. How are Military Transitional Compensation payments treated in CalFresh?

The person is a citizen. They do not have a DD 214. These payments are made to military personal or their spouse when one party physically assaults the other party. The military pays for one person to move in the cases of domestic violence.

10. REQUESTOR'S PROPOSED ANSWER:

I do not have a regulation to reference.

11. STATE POLICY RESPONSE (CFPB USE ONLY):

Per MPP 63-502.146:

.14 Unearned income shall include, but not be limited to:

.146 Payments from government-sponsored programs, dividends, interest, royalties, and all other direct money payment from any source which can be construed to be a gain or benefit.

Military Transitional Compensation Benefits are a benefit authorized by the Secretary of Defense for the purposes of paying monthly transitional compensation to dependents or former dependents of a member of the armed forces who was an abused spouse or a dependent child of the military member. Being a government-sponsored program, and without specific regulatory guidance regarding how to treat it, this income would be treated as unearned income.
